DETAILED ACTION

Response to Remarks

1. Applicant's remarks with respect to claims 1-20 have been considered but are moot in view of the new grounds of rejection.

Terminal Disclaimer

2. The terminal disclaimer filed on July 19, 2004 disclaiming the terminal portion of any patent granted on this application which would extend beyond the expiration date of U.S. Patent No. 6,690,943 has been reviewed and is accepted. The terminal disclaimer has been recorded.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1,4-6,9,11,14,15,16 and 19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Hashimoto et al (Hashimoto), U.S. Patent No.5,255,308.

Regarding claims 1 and 10, Hashimoto discloses a broadcast system (and method) for communicating a broadcast message in a telecommunications system having at least one fixed terminal for communication with one or more portable terminals, said broadcast system including:

first transmitter means for transmitting a first message from the or each fixed terminal, the message including information specifying a channel, selected for that fixed terminal, to convey the broadcast message (col. 7, lines 16-28); control means for causing the or each portable terminal to receive on the specified broadcast message channel (col.7, lines 42-45); and second transmitter means for transmitting from the fixed terminal the broadcast message on the said specified broadcast message channel for reproduction of the broadcast message by the or each portable terminal, wherein the broadcast message channel is connectionless (col.7, lines 42-53 and col.3, lines 40-51).

Regarding claims 4 and 14, Hashimoto discloses a broadcast system in accordance with claims 1 and 11, wherein the selected channel supports a connectionless downlink bearer (col.7, lines 42-45).

Regarding claims 5 and 15, Hashimoto discloses a broadcast system in accordance with claims 1 and 11 wherein the first message is transmitted as a short page message (col. 3, lines 40-51).

Regarding claims 6 and 16, Hashimoto discloses a broadcast system in accordance with claims 1 and 11 and further including:

means for assigning each portable terminal with a broadcast group identity (col.2, line 55 to col.3, line 13);

means for including broadcast group identity information in the first message (col. 3, lines 13-23); and

identity that corresponds to the broadcast group identity transmitted in the first message (col.3,lines 28-39).

Regarding claims 9 and 19, Hashimoto discloses a broadcast system in accordance with claims 1 and 11 and further including:

means for assigning each portable terminal with a broadcast group identifier (col. 2, line 55 to col.3, line 13);

means for including broadcast group identity information in the first message (col. 3, lines 13-23); and

means for causing the or each portable terminal to receive on the specified broadcast channel only if the said portable terminal has an assigned broadcast group identity that corresponds to the broadcast group identity transmitted in the first message, wherein the broadcast message is initiated at and originates at a portable terminal in communication with the at least one fixed terminal of the system, and the broadcast group identity information in the first message is selected and originates at the said portable terminal (col.3, line 28-39).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 2686

6. Claims 2,3,7,8,10,12,13,17,18 and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hashimoto, in view of Subhankar, U.S. Patent No. 6,112,097.

Regarding claims 2 and 12, Hashimoto discloses a broadcast system in accordance with claims 1 and 11 but fails to disclose wherein the selected channel is established on a DECT physical channel.

In a similar field of endeavor, Subhanker discloses wherein the selected channel is established on a DECT physical channel (col. 1, lines 51-58).

At the time of the invention it would have been obvious to one ordinary skill in the art to modify Hashimoto to include a DECT physical channel in order to interconnect a fixed part of the radio to the other mobile radios.

Regarding claims 3 and 13, Hashimoto discloses a broadcast system in accordance with claims 1 and 11 but fails to disclose wherein the selected channel supports a DECT simplex bearer.

In a similar field of endeavor, Subhanker discloses wherein the selected channel supports a DECT simplex bearer (col. 1, lines 51-58).

At the time of the invention it would have been obvious to one ordinary skill in the art to modify Hashimoto to include a DECT physical channel in order to interconnect a fixed part of the radio to the other mobile radios.

Regarding claims 7 and 17, Hashimoto discloses a broadcast system in accordance with claims 6 and 11 but fails to disclose wherein the broadcast group identity information is expressed as a DECT group temporary portable user identity (TPIU).

Art Unit: 2686

Subhanker further discloses wherein the broadcast group identity information is expressed as a DECT group temporary portable user identity (TPIU) (col. 7, lines 30-36).

At the time of the invention it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify Hashimoto to include a group of temporary portable user identities in order to provide flexibility if fixed parts are unavailable.

Regarding claims 8 and 18, Hashimoto discloses a broadcast system in accordance with claims 1 and 11 but fails to disclose wherein the broadcast message is initiated at and originates at a portable terminal in communication with the at least one fixed terminal of the system.

Subhanker further discloses wherein the broadcast message is initiated at and originates at a portable terminal in communication with the at least one fixed terminal of the system (col.3, line 65 to col.4, line 8).

At the time of the invention it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify Hashimoto to include at least one broadcast message of the multiplicity is initiated at and originates at a portable terminal in order to centralized operations.

Regarding claims 10 and 20, Hashimoto discloses a broadcast system in accordance with claims 1 and 11 but fails to disclose means for periodic transmission of the first message for the duration of the broadcast message to allow portable terminals to roam into geographical areas covered by a different fixed terminal and to receive the broadcast from the different fixed terminal.

Subhanker further discloses means for periodic transmission of the first message for the duration of the broadcast message to allow portable terminals to roam into geographical areas covered by a different fixed terminal and to receive the broadcast from the different fixed terminal (col. 3, lines 38-53).

At the time of the invention it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify Hashimoto to include portables roaming into geographical areas covered by different fixed terminals in order to allow users to move across the border.
